

"with a TYPICAL baby..."

When referring to the majority, it is more appropriate to use the word TYPICAL than the word NORMAL. Differentiating a child who is typical with a child who has Down Syndrome by using the word 'normal' can cause offence.

---

Find out more about language when talking about Down Syndrome at:

LANGUAGECREATESREALITY.COM